

April 11, 2012

Global VC funding in solar sector at $329 m in Q4

The global venture capital (VC) funding in the solar sector was off to a slow start in 2012 calendar year as deals worth $329 million were announced in January-March – the lowest since the fourth quarter of 2010.

According to a report by Mercom Capital Group, a global clean energy communications and consulting firm, VC funding for the January-March quarter came to USD 329 million, the lowest dollar amount recorded since Q4 2010.